Beast Holdings Cookie Policy

Last updated: September 27, 2025

Introduction

This Cookie Policy explains how Beast Holdings LLC and its DBAs use cookies and similar technologies across our websites, applications, and services.

What Are Cookies

Cookies are small text files placed on your device to store information. They may be set by us (first-party) or by third-party providers we use for services such as analytics or advertising.

Categories of Cookies

Strictly Necessary

Required for the website to function, including login, session management, and security.

Preferences & Functionality

Remember your settings and choices, such as language, region, or accessibility preferences.

Performance & Analytics

Help us measure and improve performance, detect errors, and understand user engagement in a privacy-preserving manner.

Marketing & Attribution

Used to deliver relevant content or measure marketing campaign effectiveness. We do not sell personal information but may share data with service providers for these limited purposes.

Duration

Cookies can be session-based (expire when you close your browser) or persistent (remain until they expire or are deleted). See our Cookie Detail List for specifics.

Your Controls

You can manage cookies via our cookie banner, browser settings, or device preferences. You can delete existing cookies, block new ones, or configure notifications when cookies are set.

We honor Global Privacy Control (GPC) signals where required by law.

Third-Party Cookies

Some cookies are set by third parties who provide services on our behalf (e.g., analytics, performance monitoring, payment fraud detection). We require such providers to respect privacy standards.

Legal Basis

Where required by law (e.g., in the EU/UK), we obtain your consent for non-essential cookies. In other regions, we rely on legitimate interests or equivalent bases under applicable law.

Changes to This Policy

We may update this Cookie Policy to reflect changes in law, technology, or business practices. Updates will apply prospectively and be dated at the top.
